The cover of this week's Video Business has a footprint in the moon, and a huge ad for From the Earth to the Moon on the next few pages. The new set is the "Signature Edition" and includes a lenticular package signed by Tom Hanks (we doubt he personally signed every copy - it's just printed on there).

The new set will include a remastered widescreen transfer (the first release was full frame) and both Dolby Digital 5.1 and DTS 5.1 surround sound audio tracks.

Extras include:

- Behind the scene featurette
- Special effects featurette
- President John F. Kennedy's historic speech
- A tour outside our solar system
- Six original promotional trailers, as seen on HBO
- Much more...

The 5 disc set will retail for $99.98, and be available on September 20. Here's a shot of the packaging and discs:
